These three certificates will be used to enrich the students’ learning portfolio and also recognizes their achievement in these areas.

夢想傳承

Hang up the Dreams

The more senior 8th Grade students were pair up with a new 7th Grade student for this activity. The senior student gave a handmade “Omamori” amulet to the junior students along with a blessing card. Junior students wrote a wish on a card and tied it together with the blessing card from the senior student. They attached them together with the Omamori and hung them on display. This is the start of a new tradition at LJIS which will remind students to plan, work towards, and achieve their dreams together.
